  - o development of digital compliance solutions ready to deploy across significant membership base
- Launch of whole of market distribution platform ("Omnicores") including Protection and Mortgage panel
- Continued focus on M&A integrations, synergy realisation and improved operational leverage:
  - o Integration of acquired portfolio into distinct product lines within the Software & Data division, supported by a unified product and sales team structure, and a single customer data view to accelerate cross sell and upsell, thereby increasing the organic growth opportunity.

Outlook

Fintel enters 2026 in a strong position, with a simplified structure, significant customer base and a recurring-revenue model providing a solid foundation for organic growth.

The acquisition of Pearson Ham's Market Pricing Business in January 2026 further strengthens the Software & Data division and is expected to be earnings accretive in FY26.

Both divisions are well positioned to benefit from the rising demand for technology, data and regulatory support across the most dynamic segments of the UK Retail Financial Services market, and the Board remains confident in delivering further progress during 2026.

Matt Timmins, CEO of Fintel plc, said:

"2025 has been a transformational year for Fintel, underpinned by our new simplified operating structure. This has reshaped the business with focus and ambition, whilst strengthening our position as a technology-driven platform for the UK retail financial services market. With market-leading technology and data solutions targeting a significant customer base, and a resilient, cash-generative model with a strong balance sheet to fund investment, we enter 2026 strongly positioned to seize the significant growth opportunities ahead."
